

™I came away with some vital information that will help me to hone in on my own personal style. Getting clarity around the fact that I do have more than one persona and can embrace each of them was big. Now I don't feel like I have to be a slave to any one and communicate myself and my own personal style in a more settled way...so THANKS! Keep doing great and fun work. All the best for future success."

™Thank you so much for the wonderful workshop on Saturday. I was truly inspired afterwards, and even went to Nordstroms over the weekend -- I did not feel nearly as helpless and lost as I usually do while shopping :) I even got a couple pair of summer shoes that I actually love (!), and I got a pair of NYDJ that they are tailoring this week! Now at least I have 2 items from your list of must-haves...a big improvement for me! I am looking forward to working with you again in the future."

™Thank you, Natalie, for a marvelous experience. Not only did I enjoy myself, but I continued to learn."

™Thank you so much for Saturday. I learned a lot both about style and myself in a short time. You are very talented. I am inspired by you, the way you hold yourself and present yourself with style and confidence and energy. And smiles! I am trying to NOT use the burlap bag until I find a replacement! LOL! That was quite a find you inspired me to do when I thought of my mother wearing burlap bags and me still carrying around (literally) the burlap!"

™Girl, THANK YOU for the opportunity to attend! I really learned a lot and truly enjoyed meeting the other ladies as well. It was interesting how we all came from different backgrounds, yet had the same "image and styling" issues. I had NO IDEA how much I let myself go after having my baby. This bootcamp drove me back into the "style game" again. It's like, I care about myself again, I am putting more time into how I look and feel. The bootcamp has done wonders for my confidence! I look forward to continuing working with you :)"

™Thanks so much for the wonderful workshop on Saturday. I left truly inspired and definitely interested in taking my personal best a step forward."

"I thoroughly enjoyed the seminar presented by Natalie Jobity. I felt that it was extremely insightful, the lecturer was very down-to-earth and willing to help the participants. The seminar was organized, detailed and well thought out."

"Your workshop/seminar was extremely helpful and immensely appreciated! I have so much research to do and I am extremely ecstatic because of it!"

"Natalie exudes enthusiasm and passion for the world of fashion and image consulting."

"Natalie Jobity is very enthusiastic and excited when it comes to teaching others, which makes it easy to reflect her energy. I attended her seminar and it was extremely informative and made me even more excited than I was before."

"The course overall provided a large self awareness on my projected image and provided tips and exercises on how to project the image you want others to see."

"Thank you for facilitating the workshop. You were outstanding. We thoroughly enjoyed your presentation and look forward to working with you in the very near future."
